

LEARNING JOURNEY

Biology

Topic 8- Humans and the Environment

This module continues your learning journey from previous learning in Key Stage 3 about the environment.

You will develop a much greater understanding of interdependence between consumers and producers and how they photosynthesis and respiration aids the cycling of elements.

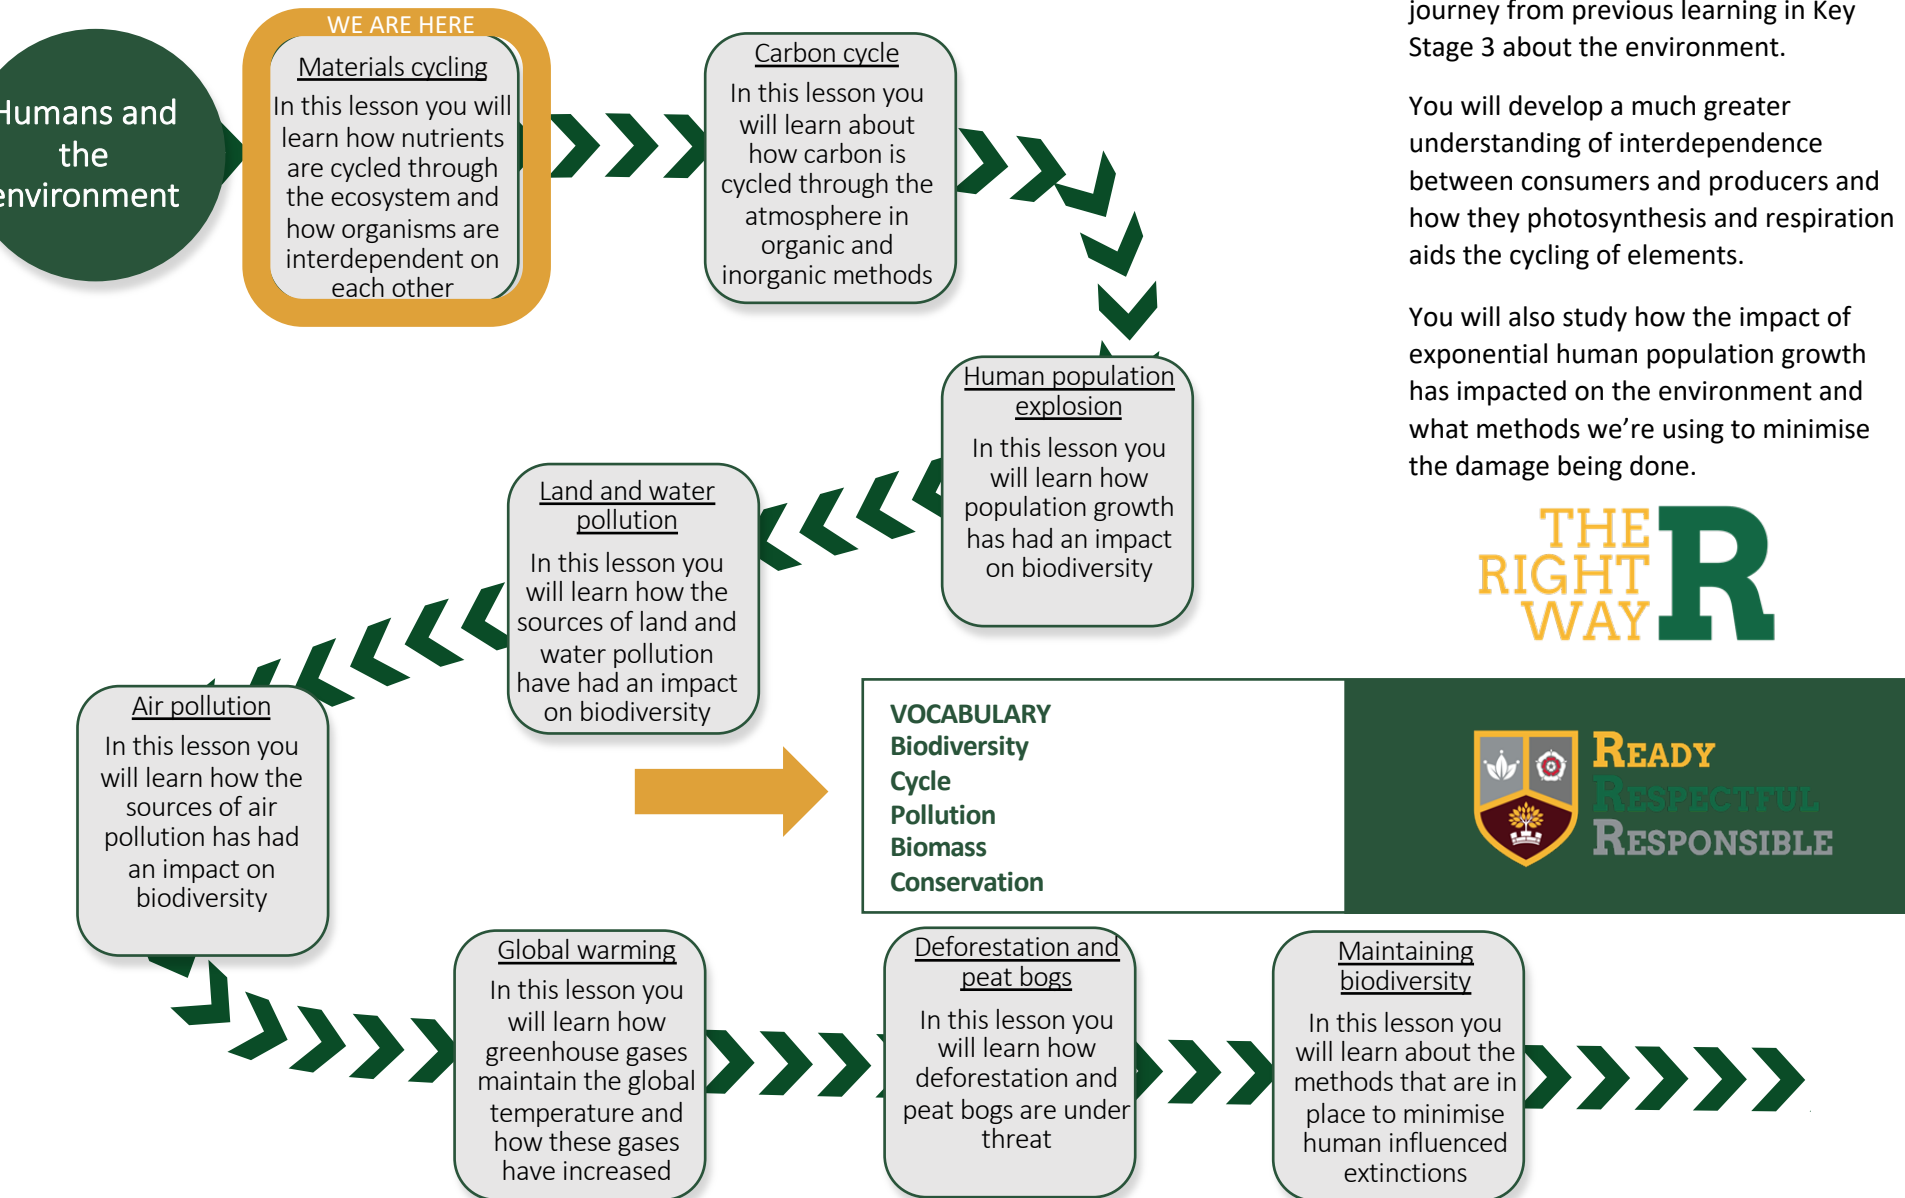

You will also study how the impact of exponential human population growth has impacted on the environment and what methods we're using to minimise the damage being done.

LEARNING JOURNEY

Biology

Topic 8- Humans and the Environment

This module continues your learning journey from previous learning in Key Stage 3 about the environment.

You will develop a much greater understanding of interdependence between consumers and producers and how they photosynthesis and respiration aids the cycling of elements.

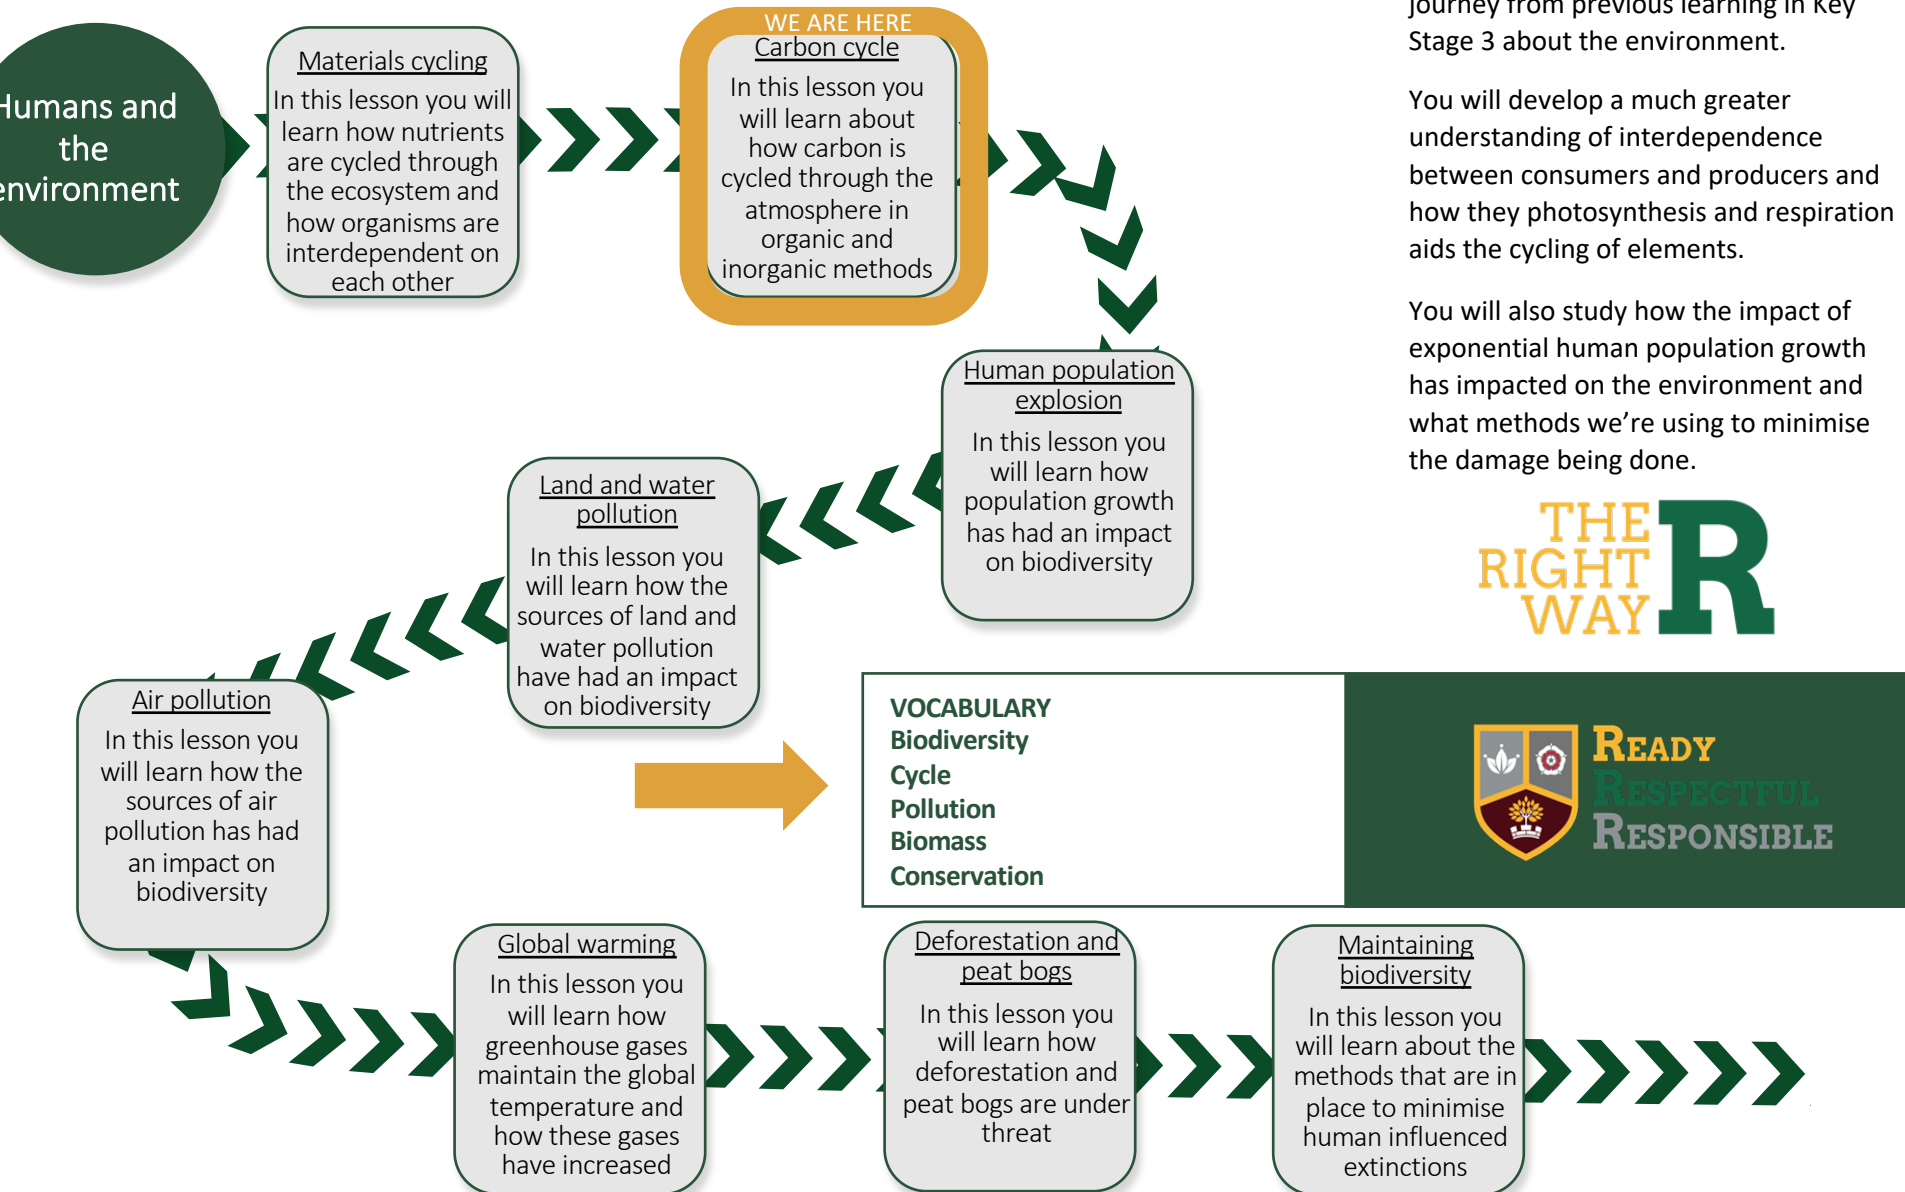

You will also study how the impact of exponential human population growth has impacted on the environment and what methods we're using to minimise the damage being done.

LEARNING JOURNEY

Biology

Topic 8- Humans and the Environment

This module continues your learning journey from previous learning in Key Stage 3 about the environment.

You will develop a much greater understanding of interdependence between consumers and producers and how they photosynthesis and respiration aids the cycling of elements.

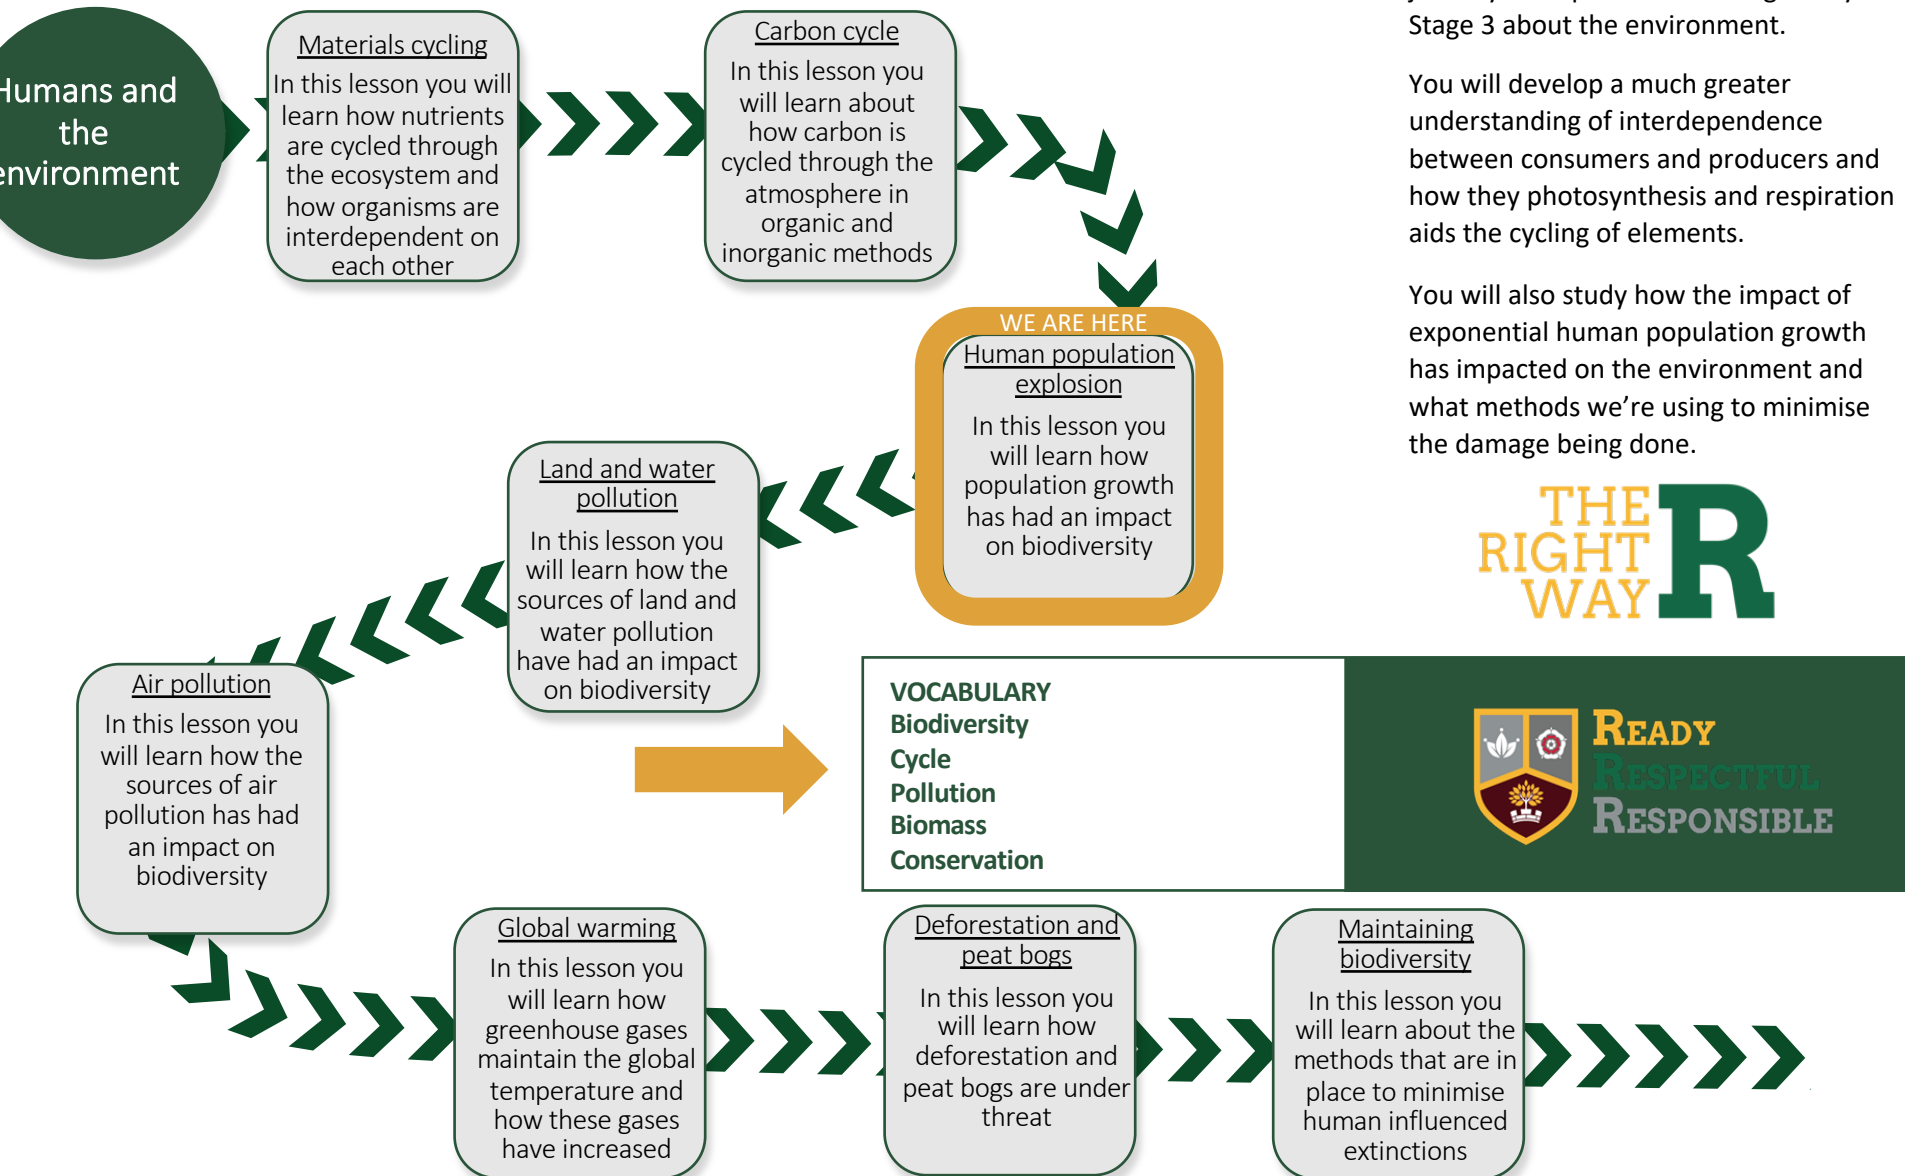

You will also study how the impact of exponential human population growth has impacted on the environment and what methods we're using to minimise the damage being done.

LEARNING JOURNEY

Biology

Topic 8- Humans and the Environment

This module continues your learning journey from previous learning in Key Stage 3 about the environment.

You will develop a much greater understanding of interdependence between consumers and producers and how they photosynthesis and respiration aids the cycling of elements.

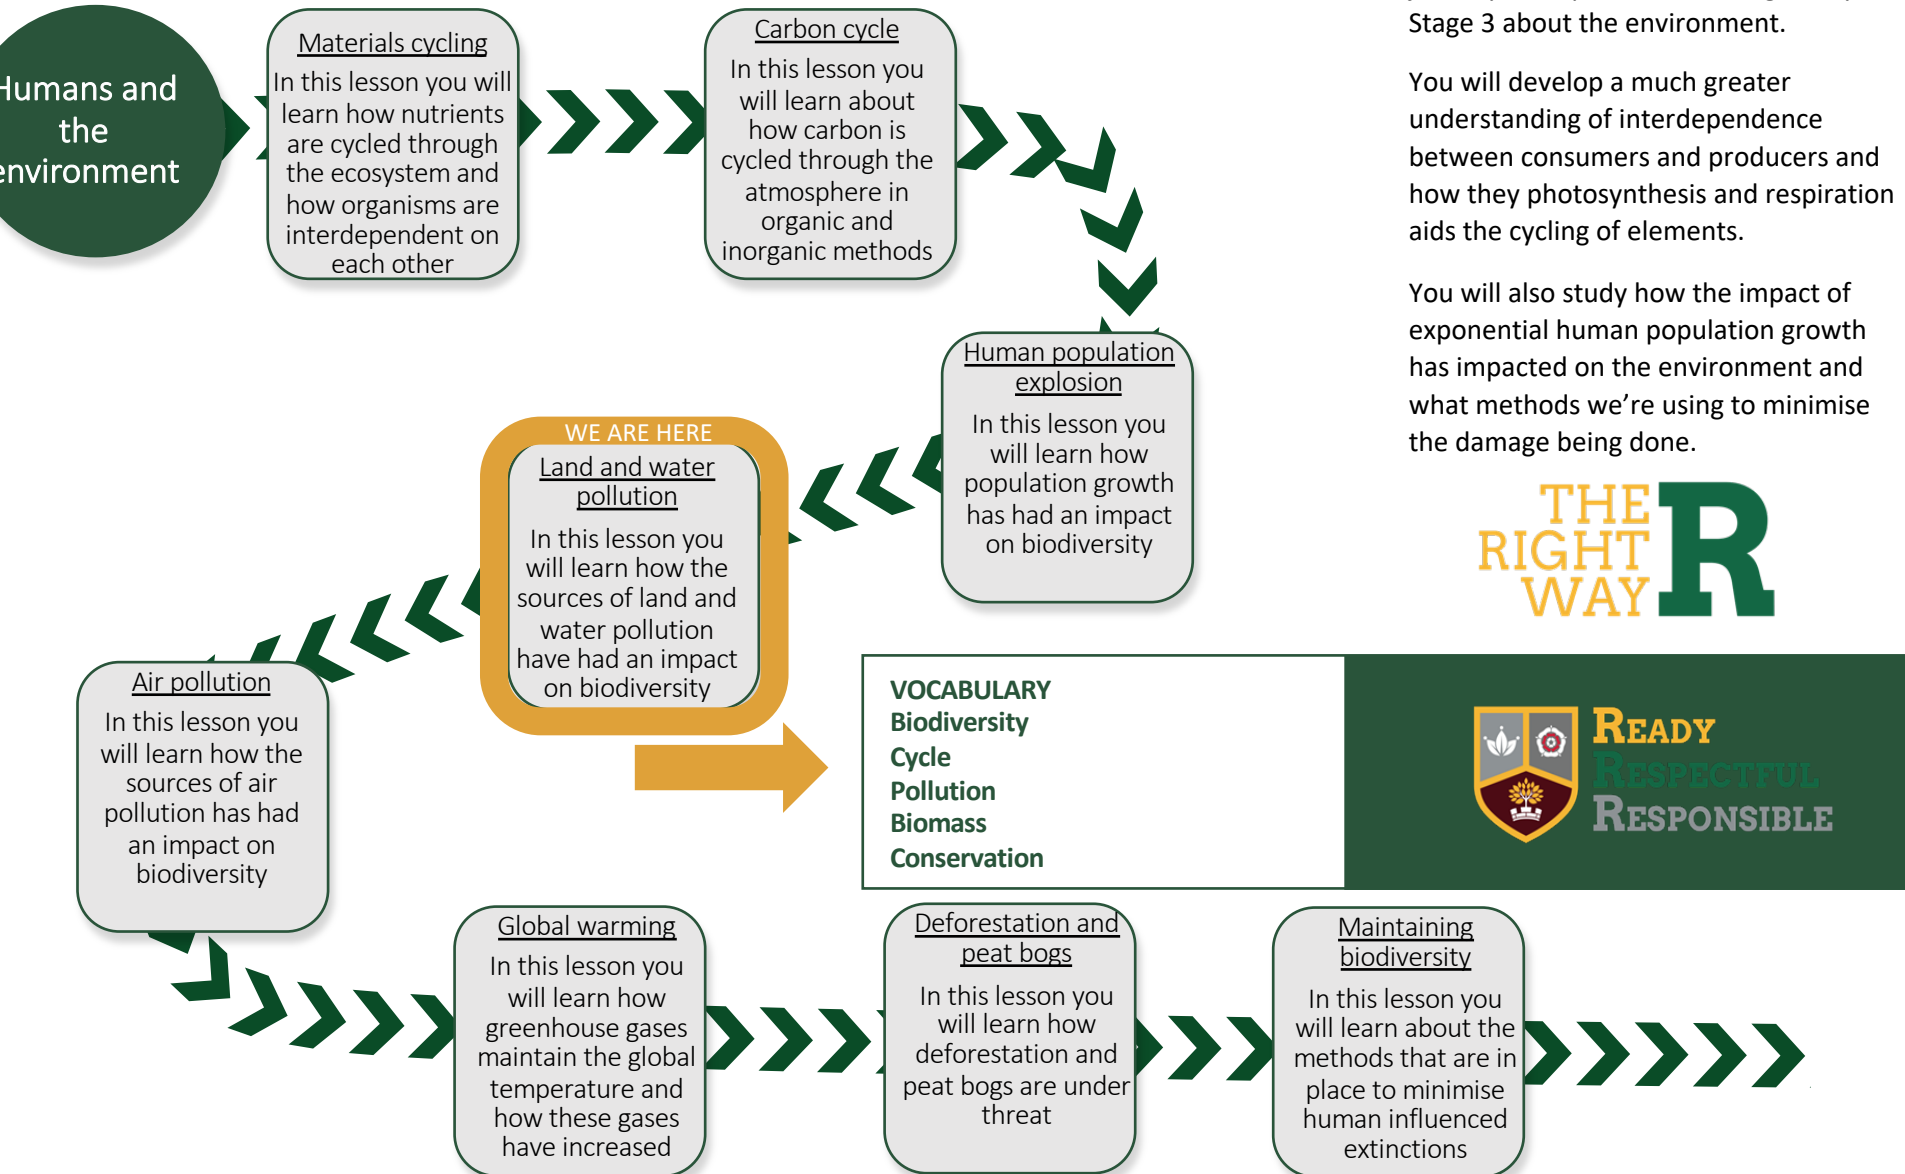

You will also study how the impact of exponential human population growth has impacted on the environment and what methods we're using to minimise the damage being done.

LEARNING JOURNEY

Biology

Topic 8- Humans and the Environment

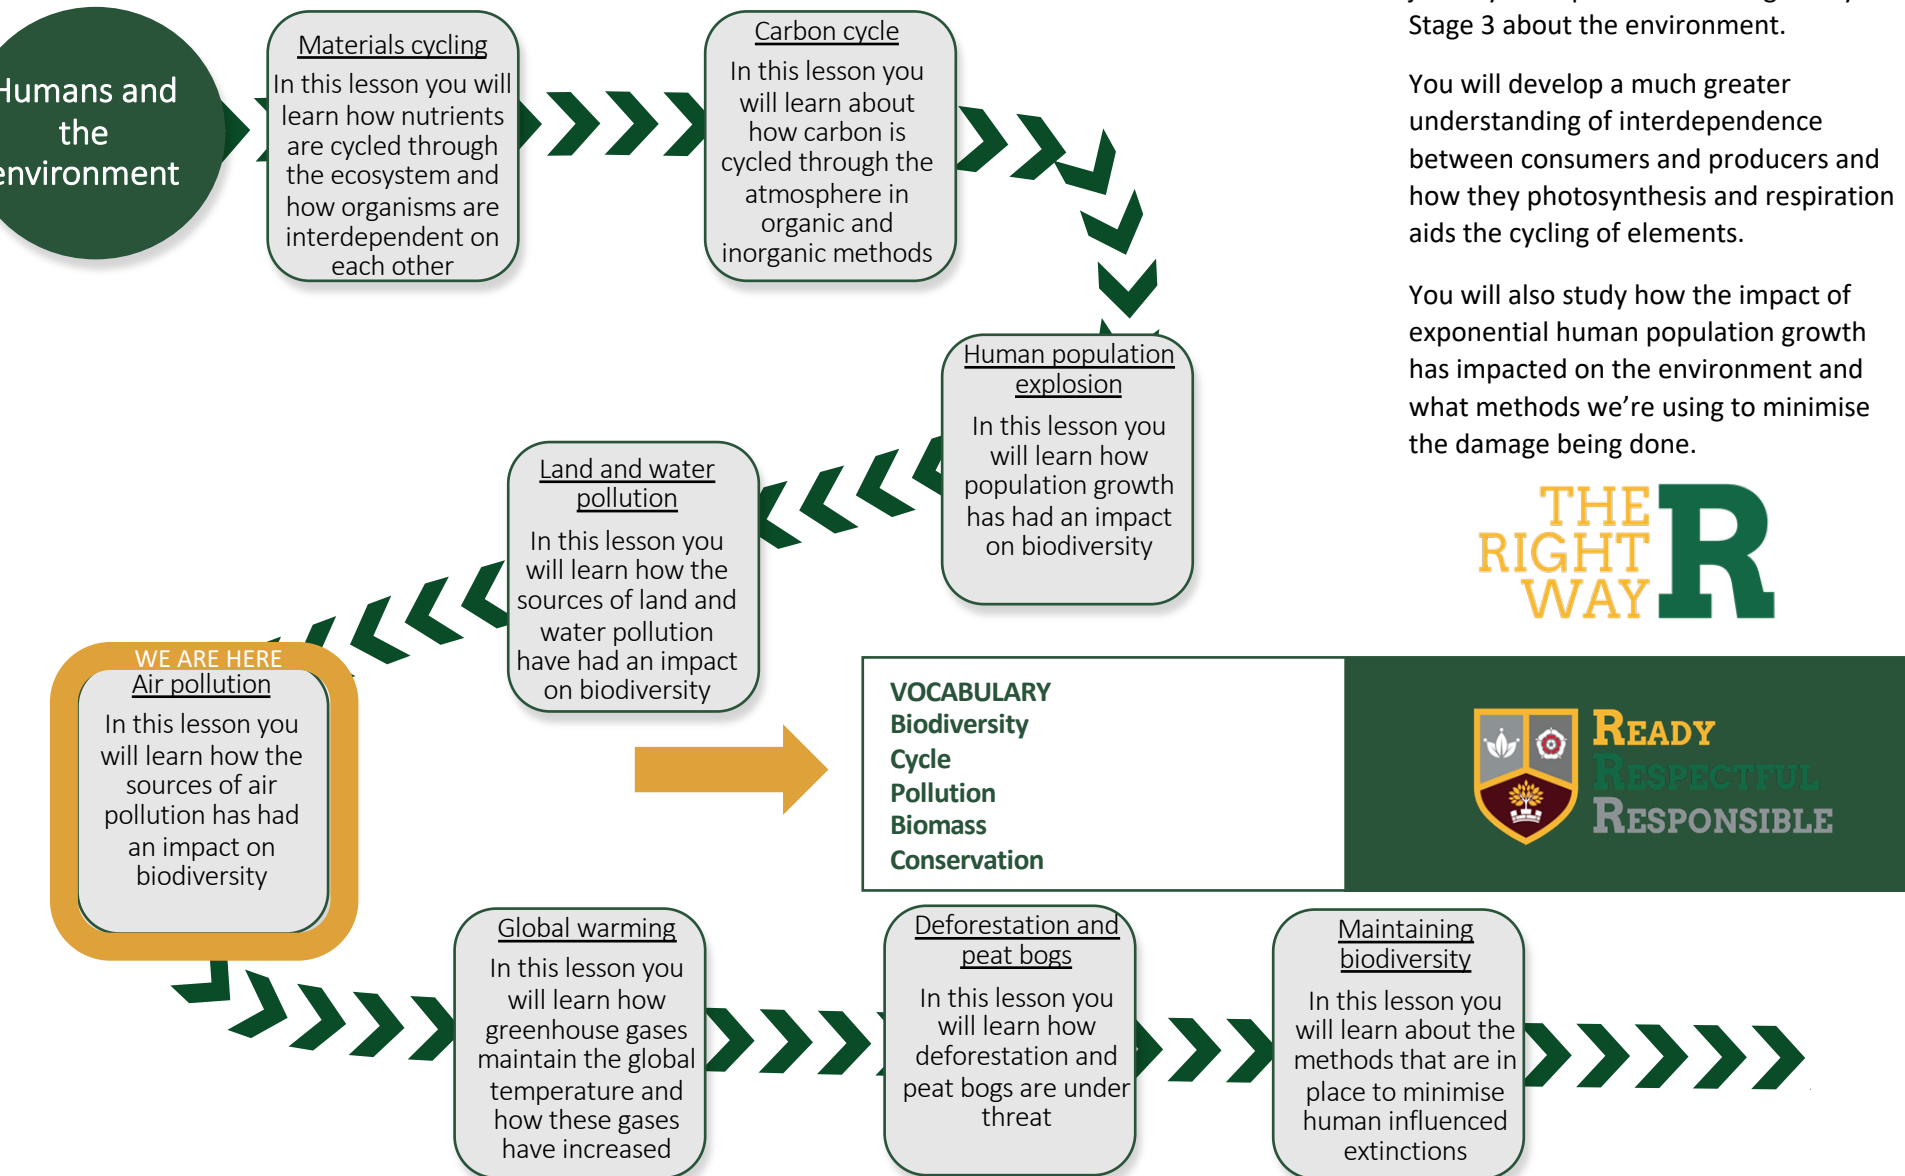

LEARNING JOURNEY

Biology

Topic 8- Humans and the Environment

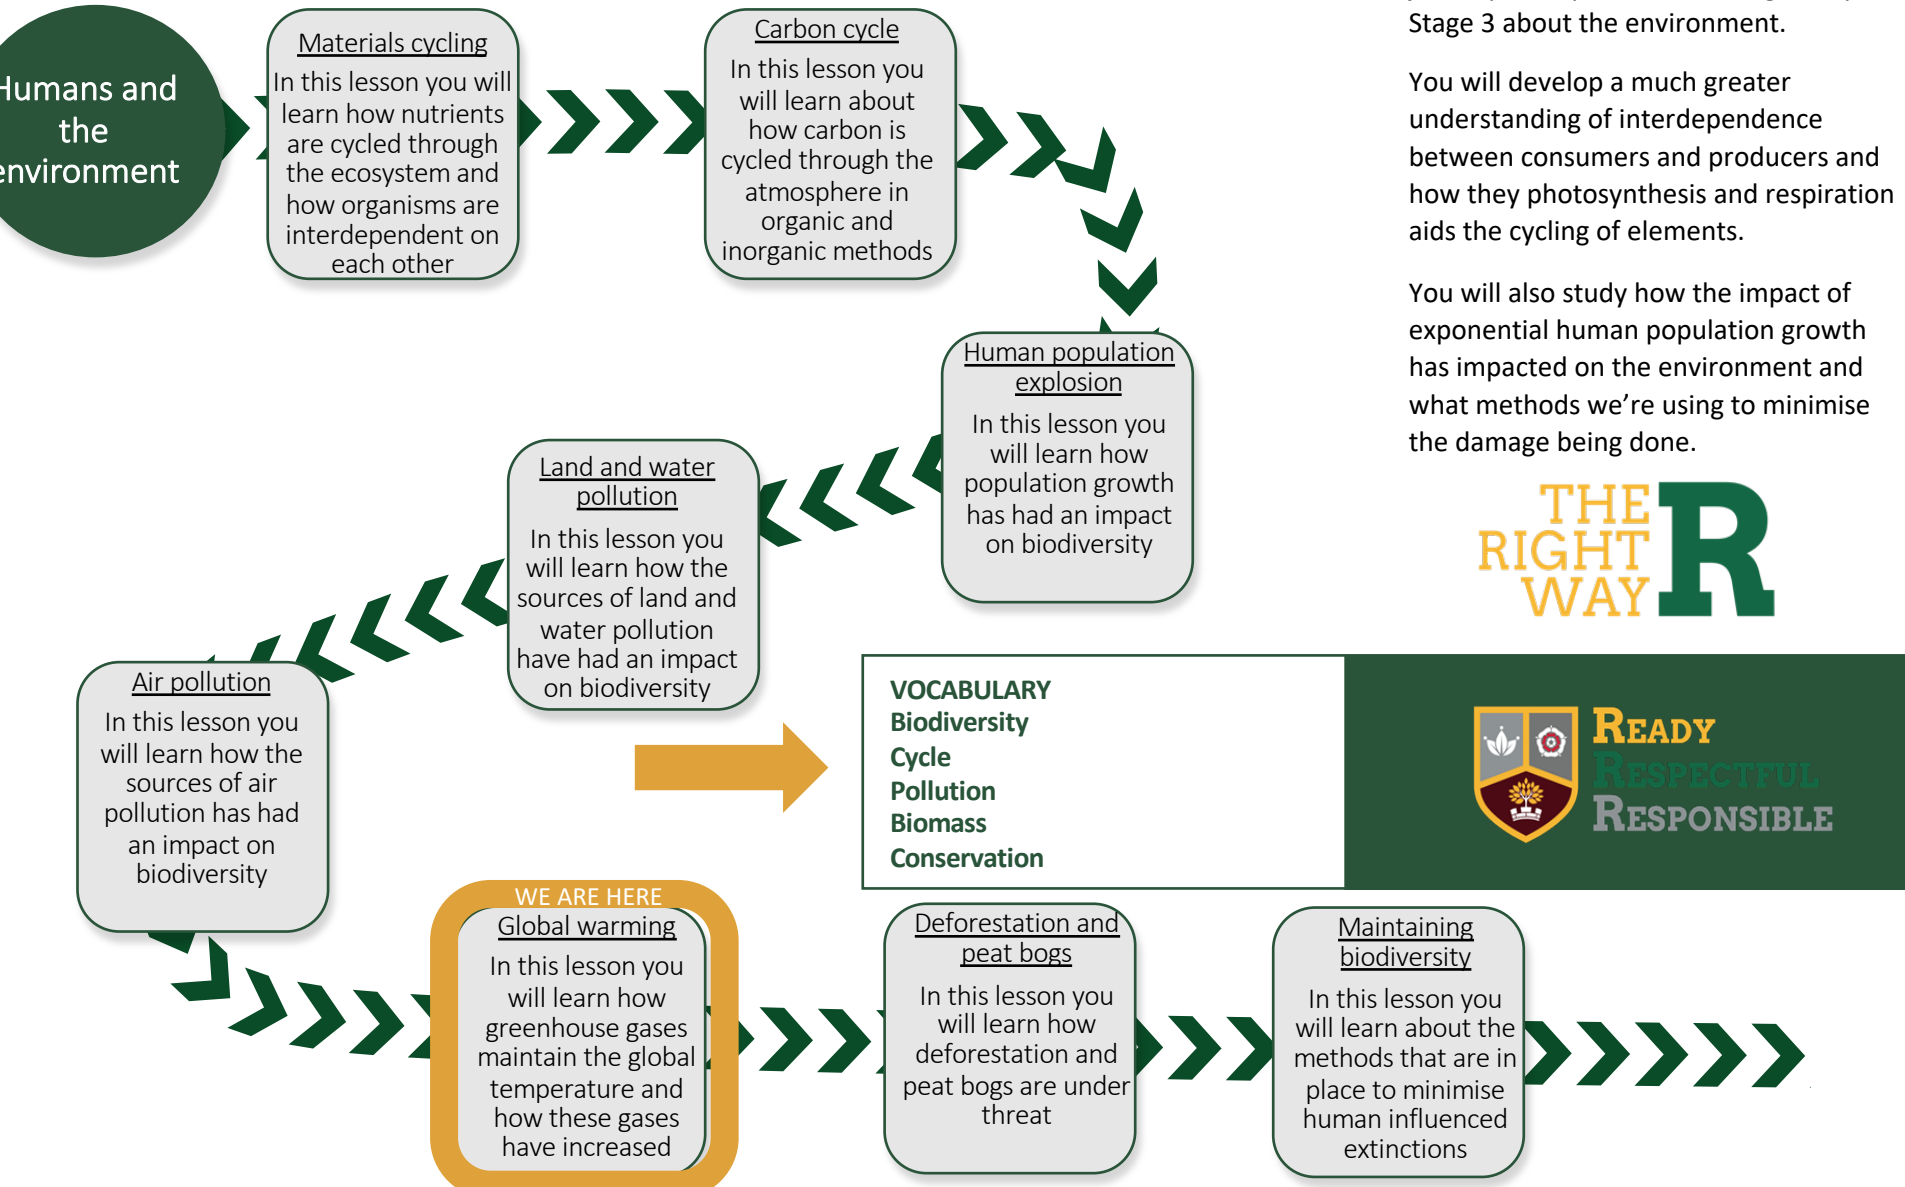

LEARNING JOURNEY

Biology

Topic 8- Humans and the Environment

This module continues your learning journey from previous learning in Key Stage 3 about the environment.

You will develop a much greater understanding of interdependence between consumers and producers and how they photosynthesis and respiration aids the cycling of elements.

You will also study how the impact of exponential human population growth has impacted on the environment and what methods we're using to minimise the damage being done.

THE RIGHT
WAY R

READY
RESPECTFUL
RESPONSIBLE

LEARNING JOURNEY

Biology

Topic 8- Humans and the Environment

This module continues your learning journey from previous learning in Key Stage 3 about the environment.

You will develop a much greater understanding of interdependence between consumers and producers and how they photosynthesis and respiration aids the cycling of elements.

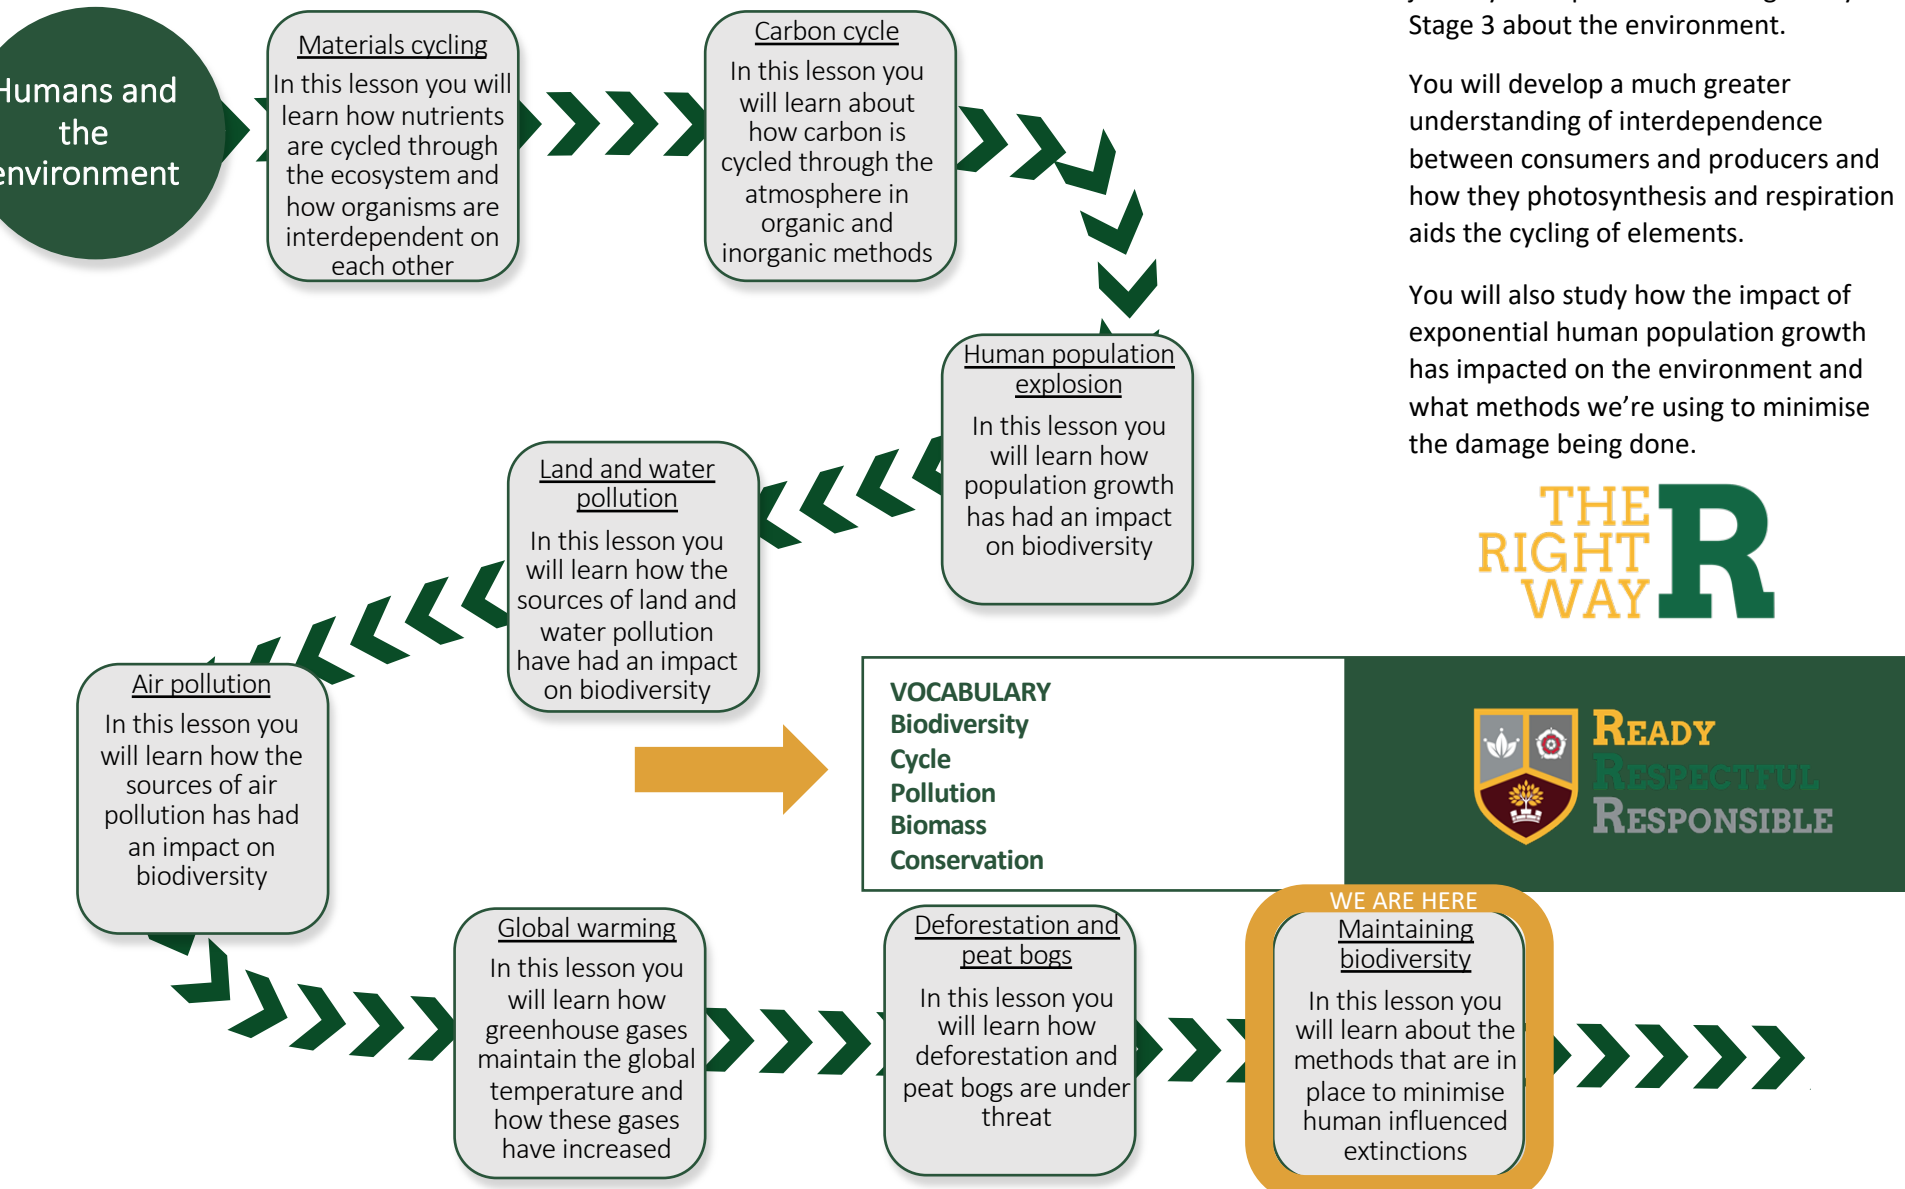

You will also study how the impact of exponential human population growth has impacted on the environment and what methods we're using to minimise the damage being done.

LEARNING JOURNEY

Biology

Topic 8- Humans and the Environment

This module continues your learning journey from previous learning in Key Stage 3 about the environment.

You will develop a much greater understanding of interdependence between consumers and producers and how they photosynthesis and respiration aids the cycling of elements.

You will also study how the impact of exponential human population growth has impacted on the environment and what methods we're using to minimise the damage being done.